COMMENDS TRAINMEN

The following letter has been received by us from a passenger who was in the Frisco wreck near Kelleyville, Tuesday after noon.

Claremore, Ok., August 26, 1914.
EDITOR OF MONETT TIMES:
Dear Sir:—I was in the wreck on the Frisco road nearly a mile west of Kelleyville, Tuesday, in which a few were hurt but not so badly as might have been considering the magnitude of the wreck.

While I received quite a sprained knee, yet I am up and I want to say now for the benefit of the trainman that they would go down with the ship while rescuing others. It has been said that trainmen rode in the Pullman for safety. That I deny for the brakeman stood in our car crying at the top of his voice, "keep your seats please," and went down with the chair car to its worst, sharing our fate with us for life or death.

The worth of switchmen is untold. Our honorable conductor was also at the front at work and when the train stopped the crew from the engineer to porter quitted themselves like men. There was nothing too good for the wounded. Everything was done for their comfort and every man, woman and child on that train will kindly remember those trainmen.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The pending administration Philippine bill was urged as an imperative necessity and in accord with Filipino sentiment in a favorable report filed with the house today by the insular affairs committee.
